SOVEREIGNTY OF JAPAN TO BE ENTIRE

Provisions of Agreement Made Public Today—Treaties to be Honored

UNITED STATES WILL RETAIN PRIVILEGES

Korean Emperor Will Have the Rights of Ex-ruler—Officials to be Well Treated

TOKIO, Aug. 22.—The provisions of the Imperial proclamation transferring the Korean sovereignty to Japan,
which will be signed shortly, were announced today.

The Japanese government will recognize for the present at least the various treaties existing between Korea and the foreign nations. One clause is of primary importance to the United States which enjoyed under the Korean treaty certain territorial rights, which were not allowed in Japan.

The proclamation provides that the Korean emperor will have all the rights devolving on an ex-emperor, according to the Japanese law. The Korean officials will receive similar treatment.

Within the week "The Hermit Kingdom" and the empire of Korea
will become mere historical terms,
twelve millions of people will be added
to the population of Japan and territory as large as England and Scotland together will become part of the emperor's dominions.

The Privy Council of Japan was summoned to meet this morning to complete the negotiations between General Terauchi, the Japanese residential general in Korea, and the emperor of Korea and his cabinet, which have continued for a full week.

While these negotiations are shrouded in secrecy, there is no doubt that the Korean emperor has agreed to sign a convention transferring full control of Korea to Japan.

NEW ENGLAND QUAKE

SMITHWICK TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION

Justice of the Peace Ed. Smithwick, who was defeated in the recent primary for renomination by J. D. Cox,
this morning tendered his resignation
to the board of supervisors, asking that it be accepted immediately and that Mr. Cox, his successful opponent,
be appointed to fill the office.

Justice Smithwick's letter of resignation was as follows:

"To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Orange County, California.

"Gentlemen:—In view of recent occurrences in Santa Ana township, I feel that I should not longer hold the office of Justice of the Peace, and therefore tender this, my resignation,

EIGHTEEN DROWN IN BEDFORD WRECK

British Cruiser Goes Ashore In Korean Waters—Now
Pounding Badly

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Eighteen sailors were drowned when the British cruiser Bedford went ashore on Quelpart Island, near Korea, according to the announcement of a telegraphic exchange report. The vessel was under the command of Captain Fitzhubert, and carried 687 men in her crew. She was en route from Wei Hai Wei to Nagasaki with a squadron.

The Bedford's position is perilous,
and the men left on the grounded vessel were taken off, fearing the ship will go to pieces. The cruisers Mormouth and Minotaur were attempting to aid in floating the Bedford, but were driven to sea by a rising wind. The Bedford is pounding fearfully. The cruiser was built in 1903, costing three and one-half millions.

patched to the scene of the Bedford
wreck.

400 PEASANTS PUT TO SWORD BY KURDS

Murder of Kurd Chieftain Inspired Pillage and Ruin
of Villages

ODESSA, Aug. 22.—The Kurdish
tribes and the peasantry of the Ur-mia districts, Persia, reached open warfare today, following the murder
of Miza Kervalls, a Kurdish chieftain,
by the peasants. The Kurds attacked the villagers, sacked hamlets and put
four hundred peasants to the sword.
The warfare was attended by horrible atrocities. Twelve villages are reported as totally destroyed.

CHINA FEARS LOSS OF OUTLYING PROVINCES

PEKIN, Aug. 22.—The Chinese
press is alarmed over the prospect of China losing her outlying provinces, and frequently publishes stories of alleged semi-military encroachments by Russia in Mongolia and other border provinces. The newspapers are suspicious of Great Britain as a third power to the Russo-Japanese understanding, which will not permit China to achieve suzerian authority, which she is now
seeking to establish in Tibet.

HEROIC RESCUES OF SLEEPERS FROM BURNING HOTEL

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., Aug. 22.—A fire that was marked by the heroic rescue of sleeping women and children, destroyed the Cypress Hotel today. It started in the laundry, and before the guests were aroused the flames had reached the third floor.

CAPTAIN WOOD WAS MURDERED AT SEA

Two Passengers on "Buckman" Were Hold-ups—Attempt Ends in Tragedy

EUREKA, Aug. 22.—Reports here
say that the Alaska-Pacific Steamship Company's liner Buckman was held up at sea off this port yesterday
by two passengers.

Captain Wood was shot and killed
by one of the men while resisting.
The second man was overpowered by the engine room crew.

Thomas, who shot Captain Wood,
jumped overboard with a life preserver.

The Buckman was en route from Seattle to San Francisco. At 2:15
this morning Fred Thomas, a passenger, went to the captain's room
while an accomplice descended to the engine room. Both men were armed. They attempted to take possession of the vessel. Captain Wood refused to comply with Thomas's demand.

Thomas ran out of the room and,
seeing his plans had miscarried,
strapped on a life preserver and
leaped into the sea.

In the meantime the accomplice
had encountered resistance in the engine room. He was overpowered and placed in irons. The Buckman is now proceeding to San Francisco
in charge of First Officer Brennan.
She will arrive in quarantine at noon
tomorrow.

The attempt to rob the Buckman
was reported to the President, north bound. The President searched the vicinity for Thomas without result.

Word of the holdup reached this city late last night from Port Humboldt by wireless telegraphy.

from Madera county follows: Jordan
117, Morrow 40, Mouser 18, O'Brien
78, Wagner 130. No preliminary count of votes for state offices was made in Madera county. An official count is now being made by the supervisors,
but this will not be completed before Monday.

FOREST FIRES ENCIRCLE GREAT NORTHWEST; LIFE AND PROPERTY SUCCUMB

Eight Dead In Country Near Wallace—
Foresters Escape—Montana Fires
Are Worst In States History

LEAD ALL FOREST ...

SPOKANE, Aug. 22.—That eighty men have been found dead in the country surrounding Wallace, is the latest report from the Wallace Press.
Thirty-four bodies were found at Big Creek, ten miles from Wallace, this morning. In the town of Wallace
but three were burned to death,
though scores were injured. The party of 180 United States foresters who were missing yesterday worked their way to the St. Joe river today and all are now safe, except four
who were killed in the flames.

It is reported that Satez, twenty-five miles from Wallace, is burning.
The entire country between Wallace and the St. Joe river is encircled in roaring flames.

EARLIER REPORTS OF DISASTROUS SITUATION

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 22.—With half of Wallace, Idaho, in ruins, Taft, Mont., Stregis, Wash., and Avery, Idaho, burned, the forest fires situation assumed a graver aspect today.

In the fire zone thirty bodies have been recovered up to date, and the death list around Wallace is estimated to be fifty. Seven bodies were recovered at Wallace at sunrise, four at Newport, Wash., six in the War
Eagle mine tunnel near Wallace,
twelve at Big Creek and one at Mullan, near Wallace. At St. Joe, Idaho, eighteen are missing, and 180 fire fighters are reported to be surrounded by the fire.

Thousands of dollars are added to the property damage hourly, and the total will reach millions. According to a report from Missoula, one thousand refugees from Wallace and surrounding sections have reached Missoula, with many of them fearfully burned and several having lost their eyesight.

Worst in Montana's History
HELENA, Mont., Aug. 22.—The worst fires in Montana's history are burning in various parts of the state.
A few settlements are endangered,
and communication with some parts of the state has been cut off by the downed wires.

Fire in Tahoe District
NEVADA CITY, Cal., Aug. 22.—

Fire gained a foothold today in the Tahoe forest, and miles of heavy timber land is being swept by a great conflagration, according to messages. The Bullion Mine plant, near Forest Hill, has been destroyed.
A force of 150 men is fighting the flames that, it is reported, were started by an incendiary.

Forest Supervisor Bigelow, of the Tahoe national reserve, this afternoon
telegraphed to the United States
army headquarters at San Francisco demanding troops to fight the fierce forest fires that are destroying timber and property near Forest Hill, Place county. Despite the efforts of hundreds, the flames have got beyond control. The fire now threatens the Southern Pacific main line.

TO INVESTIGATE CAUSE OF FIRES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The forest service officials today telegraphed Assistant Forester Buck at Medford, Ore., to use every effort to find and arrest the man suspected of starting fires in Southeastern Oregon. The service has appealed to the war department for more troops.
Buck wired, replying that twenty-five men are now investigating the cause of the fires.

Wallace Death List Grows

SPOKANE, Aug. 22.—A telegram to the Spokane press says it is known that the list of dead at Wallace is now 27, but it is believed more bodies will be found before the search ends. These figures do not include the fatalities in surrounding districts, which already number 23.
The wind has subsided at Wallace,
and it is believed there is no more
danger of the remainder of the town
being burned. The fire in the nearby forests is smoldering, and hundreds of persons are trying to extinguish it.

Burke, Idaho, Is Doomed

PORTLAND, Aug. 22.—Burke, Idaho, ten miles from Wallace, is now
at the mercy of the flames, according to this afternoon's advices. The town is on fire, and though all available men are working, every building is probably doomed. Negro

An Official Report on the Price of Apricots

The following report is furnished
the Register by A. C. Tiede:

I learn the following in regard to the market condition of apricots.
Mr. John Dent of Ventura writes under date of Aug. 20th:

"There have been quite a few buyers around this week offering 10c
net. A few have sold at this price. I think the remainder will hold for 12 cents."

The Los Angeles Express under a
late date says:

Prices of Dried Fruit Satisfactory

That California's output of dried fruits, with the exception of prunes,
will be large, is the opinion of Los Angeles fruit jobbers. Nearly all the crop will be exported.

A large amount of peaches, apples,
grapes and other deciduous fruits is being dried this year and it is thought that the unusually strong demand prevailing for California dried fruits will keep the prices high enough to enable the producer to make a reasonable profit.

"I think fully seven-eighths of the state's dried fruit output will be exported," said J. Huber of the Rivers Bros. Produce Company, today.

"While the fruit will be shipped to all sections of the United States in large quantities, probably the heavy-

est demand is from the mining sections of the western states. A large amount also will go to Canada and Alaska.

"There is a strong demand in Europe for California dried apricots and heavy shipments will be made there.
Although the apricot crop was an average one in size, this strong export demand has already forced the price
up higher than it was at any time last year. Dried apricots now are worth 12 cents a pound, while last year the price at no time was higher than 10 cents a pound.

"I think despite the large amount of dried fruit the state will have on its hands this year, the heavy demand
of the east and Europe will make the year a good one for California growers."

I submit the above information to our growers from which they can draw their own conclusions. There will be a meeting of the directors on Friday, Aug. 26th, at 3 o'clock p. m.
in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.
The question of raising the price will be considered and I suggest that every member of the Dried Fruit Association who has not yet sold, attend
this meeting and express their opinion."

A. C. TIEDE, Sec'y.

MOISSANT AGAIN MEETS DISASTER IN HIS AIR FLIGHT

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Misfortune
again attended John Moissant's attempts to fly. After an hour circling high in the air in an attempt to fly
to London, he was compelled to descend. In the descent his machine was again wrecked. Moissant left Upchurch at 4:30 this morning.

STEAMER BURNS IN FRISCO BAY TODAY

"Kilburn" Discharged Passengers Then Catches Afire—
Loss Will be $200,000

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Seething with flames, the steamer F. A.
Kilburn is adrift in San Francisco bay today while fire boats lying close and playing powerful streams on the burning vessel, which will be a total loss of nearly $200,000.

The Kilburn, plying between San Francisco and Humboldt Bay ports,
arrived here at the end of the week
and discharged its passengers. It then went to Oakland wharf to discharge its cargo, the fire breaking out early today. The vessel is owned by the Charles P. Doe Company and flies
a Northern Pacific steamship flag.

FASTING PROGRAM LEGALLY CHECKED

Following Death of Leader, Fasters Are Removed from House of Mystery

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Armed with warrants charging insanity, officers yesterday entered the "house
of mystery," at 5913 Benner street, where John O'Neal died, and removed Mrs. Nellie Boyle, Alice Griffin
and James Butler, members of a religious cult, to the county hospital,
where they will be held pending an investigation as to their sanity.

For five weeks these people have fasted, believing that they had been commanded to do so. John Irving O'Neal was the head of the cult, and death ended his fast Saturday morning. Immediately the authorities decided to take action. Yesterday shortly after the noon hour, Under-sheriff Brane, accompanied by Deputies Aguirre, Gillis and Wright,
entered the house and read warrants
to the bedridden people. They protested against being removed.

Two ambulances were backed up to the curb. The girl was the first to be carried out. She moaned and cried piteously. The lack of food had greatly weakened her. Both women were taken to the County Hospital. The officers soon returned and took the man to the detention ward of the hospital, where all three will be nursed and then brought before a lunacy commission. The complaints against them were sworn to
by Deputy Sheriff Aguirre.

Because of their weakened condition they were allowed only warm milk, though the girl requested a crust of bread. This morning they will receive solid food. They physicians at the county hospital believe the trio will recover.

The body of O'Neal is being held
at a local undertaking establishment.
His followers refuse to comment on his death.

IOWANS CUT LOOSE FROM SPEAKER CANNON

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 22.—The announcement of Congressman Longworth that he will not support Speaker Joseph G. Cannon for re-election has caused a hurried consultation
among Iowa Congressional candidates for re-election, the decision of which is that they must declare themselves among the number of those who have decided to cut loose
from the Danville statesman.

PROCLAIMS VICTORIOUS RIVAL AS PRESIDENT

Americans Demand Protection
for Lives and Interests at Revolutionists Hands

MANAGUA, Aug. 22.—General Mena, commanding the advance of the revolutionary army, entered Managua today
with several thousand troops,
publicly acknowledged his defeat and proclaimed General
Juan Estrada president.

Americans Demand Protection
BLUEFIELDS, Aug. 22.—American demands have been formally served on the revolutionists for the protection of American vested interests
and American lives in Nicaragua.
Americans are also demanding that the revolutionists protect investments, asking that a bond issue be ordered for the purpose of restoring American loans used in financing the revolution.

The demands have created excitement among the revolutionists, and brawls are occurring at Granada and Managua. Americans here have threatened to request Washington to send gunboats from Corinto if the riots continue.

ARMY WAS MARCHING ON TO REAL VICTORY

BLUEFIELDS, Aug. 22.—Elated by their victories at Tipitana River and Granada, the insurgent armies today are marching on Masaya, in a direct line for Managua, which is expected to fall soon. President Madriz is leading his advisors in his flight, and the provisional government army, receiving recruits everywhere along the march, is moving to the capital.

ESTRADA REPORTED AS ASSUMING PRESIDENCY

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 22.—
General Juan J. Estrada, who launched the Nicaraguan revolution on October 10, 1909, yesterday assumed the presidency of that republic, the office being transferred to him by Jose Dolores Estrada, a brother,
who on Saturday was made provisional president by Dr. Jose D. Mad-riz, who abdicated following sweeping victories of the insurgents in the interior and at Granada.

This information is contained in private cable advices received here
last night.

Madriz and his family were permitted to leave for Corinto unmolested. They will sail from there for Panama and take the steamer for Europe or the United States.

ELECTRIC LINE FOR SAN BERDOO AND UPLAND

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 22.—
Huntington agents are busy securing rights of way for the extension of the system east from Upland to Rialto and this city. The grading is almost completed as far as Upland and the activity of the land agents of the company east of that place leads to the supposition that the connection between the Los Angeles and the San Bernardino valley system will come sooner than expected.

It is believed that the line will enter
this city through the northwest section, which is a populous district and which is without street facilities.

IN MEMORY OF THE DEAD

Veterans in Camp at Huntington Beach Hold Impressive Services

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 22.—Memorial services were held at the veterans' encampment yesterday in addition to the large number of old soldiers in camp many carloads from Los Angeles and its surrounding towns arrived during the morning, making the attendance the largest thus far.

On the stage of the Auditorium were five vacant chairs draped in the colors of each organization connected with the veterans' association—white for the army nurses, black for the veterans, lavender for the auxiliary members, red, white and blue for the Spanish War veterans and the Sons of Veterans.

After the singing of "The Vacant Chair" by W. A. Packard of Los Angeles, Mrs. Rachael Talbot of that city paid a tender tribute to the memory of the country's defenders. The memorial sermon was delivered by Chaplain J. S. Pittman of Los Angeles, who took as the scripture lesson the parable of the talents. At the close of the sermon the great congregation sang "When the Roll is Called up Yonder." Director H. E. Stevenden wielded the baton. The scene was deeply impressive, the saddened faces of thousands of gray-haired men and women, the furled and crepe-bordered flags and the stirring music combining to make the occasion one of solemn interest.

Mrs. Adelle Gardner, president of the Woman's Relief Corps of Huntington Beach, presented to each of the local churches, through its pastor, a beautiful American flag. Responses were made by Rev. Dr. E. E. Clough for the Methodist, Rev. J. W. C. Sloan for the Baptist, T. C. H. DeLapp for the Christian, and Rev. Father Reardon for the Catholic churches.

A sacred concert, in which patriotic music was a leading feature, was given in the evening and an eloquent address by Lee C. Gates of Los Angeles closed the day's exercises.

Miss Agnes Martin, a former graduate of the Orange County Business College, now stenographer in the First National Bank of Anaheim, called Saturday afternoon to renew acquaintances at the college.

Mr. Ben Riesland of the bookkeeping department, is helping the Edison Electric Co. take stock.

Miss Rosamond Rice, a former student, now secretary to the High School principal, Los Angeles, visited the college Saturday.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure, however, severe, obstinate, hang-on, chronic coughs, bronchitis and nervous, chronic and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-on coughs or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine: "In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach), it is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of prostatic (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores, or ulcers.
Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet telling all about the native medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.

He Stopped It

By CHAUNCEY WARDWELL

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

The king of Prussia—the great King Frederick—was one day walking in his garden with his hands clasped behind him when he heard an "Ahem!" spoken in a soft voice.

Looking up, he saw just above the wall a face. It was a young, round, rosy face incased in curly chestnut locks and visible from chin to crown. But below the chin was only a stone wall. The body was invisible.

"Pardon me, your majesty," said a girl's voice. "I have something to ask your majesty, and if I had taken the proper steps it would be too late to serve the purpose."

"What is it, child?" asked the king.

"I have heard that your majesty is greatly opposed to the practice of dueling, so much in vogue just now."

"Surely you do not wish permission to kill any one."

"Oh, no, your majesty! I wish you to stop a duel."

"Between whom?"

"Captain Fritz Guenther and Lieutenant Carl Hoffman."

"What interest have you in these men?"

"No interest whatever in Captain Guenther. He is a professed duelist. He picked a quarrel with Carl on my account. Guenther is a fine swordsman and would doubtless kill Carl."

"I'm!" grunted the king, noticing a tremor in the girl's voice. "This Hoffman is doubtless either your brother or your lover."

"He is not my brother," said the girl, blushing.

"I see. Well, I shall send word to them both that they cannot fight without my permission."

The girl's head disappeared, and the king went into the palace. There he directed that a royal order be sent to the duelists that they should not fight without his permission, for which they must apply in person.

That evening it was announced to the king that Captain Guenther and Lieutenant Hoffman asked for an audience. The king directed that they be admitted.

"Well, young men," he said when they came before him, "what can I do for you?"

"Please, your majesty," said Captain Guenther, "we wish to fight a duel."

"And do you join in the application?" asked the king of Hoffman.

"I do, sire."

"Very well. The application is granted on two conditions—I must choose the ground and be present at the encounter."

"So high an honor I surely did not expect," said Captain Guenther, much elated.

"Nor I," said Lieutenant Hoffman.

"Will your majesty graciously appoint the hour of meeting?" asked the captain.

"Ten o'clock tomorrow morning," replied the king.

"And the place?" asked the lieutenant.

"In the square directly in the rear of the palace."

The duelists thought such a place very public, especially at an hour when many people would be passing, but neither dared object. So they went away. Captain Guenther delighted that he was to fight in the presence of his king and Lieutenant Hoffman quite sure that his opponent would take all the more pleasure at killing him in the presence of so august a witness.

The next morning the regiment, acting as the king's bodyguard, surrounded the open square in the rear of the palace, where the meeting was to take place. A few minutes before 10 o'clock two carriages drove up to the square, each containing one of the principals and his seconds. An officer informed them that they could not enter the square until after the arrival of the king, so they waited in the carriages.

Presently the king, who had been inspecting since early morning, rode up to the square on horseback. The troops made an opening for him, and, returning their salute, he rode on to the dueling ground.

When a few minutes later the duelists were admitted the first thing that attracted their attention was a gallop in the center of the square, behind which sat their sovereign on his horse. They were puzzled. When they came near to the king both uncovered, and Guenther asked:

"May it please your majesty to tell us what this means?"

"It means," said the king grimly, "that the man who survives will be hanged as high as Haman on that gibbet."

It was not only evident that the king was not favorably disposed toward dueling, but that he would keep his word in the present instance. The two officers retired and spoke to their seconds while the king waited. Immediately the seconds went to his majesty and informed him that the two officers would not think of doing that which their sovereign disapproved. Then the king rode away.

Frederick directed that the name and residence of the girl who had spoken to him over his wall be learned and sent her a letter thanking her for giving him an opportunity to read a lesson to his army. She was soon after married to Lieutenant Hoffman, and the king not only sent her a substantial wedding present, but attended the wedding in person.

After that dueling in Frederick's dominions was rarely practiced and then only with the utmost secrecy.

Senator Curtis Also Exonerated in Indian Contracts Investigation

McALESTER, Okla., Aug. 22.—Senator Gore Saturday left with the Burke investigating committee a written statement expressing regret that he had been forced to mention the name of Vice President Sherman and Senator Curtis in his testimony, and requesting that the committee at the earliest possible moment make an authoritative finding and statement to the effect that no evidence has been presented tending to establish any improper conduct on the part of either man.

Chairman Burke read the Gore statement and then the unanimous finding of the court giving Vice President Sherman and Senator Curtis a clean bill.

BIG OIL LOSS IN KERN RIVER FIELD

Refinery and 3000 Barrels of Oil Destroyed by Fire Last Night

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Aug. 21.—Through an explosion of a still in the California Oil Refinery in the Kern river fields, the entire refinery and 3000 barrels of distillate were destroyed by fire last night.

The refinery was owned by the Cleveland Oil Company and was leased to the Warren Brothers Company. A water well derrick also was destroyed. Smoke from the fire overspread Bakersfield. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

—There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a tea-spoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. COUNTY'S MORALS ARE GROWING BETTER

City and County Officials Report Dearth of Business and Are Optimistic

The city and county are growing better, according to the opinion of those authorities who are charged with guarding the peace. Deputy Sheriff George Wilson remarked this morning, with an air of pleased surprise, that yesterday was the second Sunday which had passed without the sheriff's office being called on for any service. Marshal Edwards was unable to show up in the recorder's court this morning with a single case, and was also optimistic in regard to the improving morals of the community.

Mr. H. W. Moorehouse of Heber, Imperial county, occupied the pulpit at the First Congregational church yesterday; and he will speak again next Sunday, thus covering the first two Sundays of Rev. Chas. H. Seccombe's vacation.

Mr. Moorehouse is at the head of the college at Heber, but did not come here to present his work. Yesterday his theme was Public Service. He pointed out how narrow is that view of public service which sees opportunity for it and need of it in governmental affairs and in the line of public office-holding. Here indeed is great need and opportunity, but in every walk of life there is opportunity for and need of public service. In all the professions and business there is need for a larger and more unselfish outlook upon life. While we think rightly upon the necessity of accumulating for the support of ourselves and our families in sickness and old age, we must not forget that our work can and should be done on a higher plain—that of rendering public service.

Mrs. Clarence Leonard Day of Long Beach, who was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Baumgartner, sang a solo—Little's Abide With Me—at the morning service. Mrs. Day has a marvelous voice, combining sweetness and power in an unusual degree. Her singing was highly appreciated.

The church is also greatly indebted to Mr. Clarence Gustlin who played the accompaniment for Mrs. Day and for all the singing at yesterday's services and those of the preceding Sunday. Mr. Gustlin is an accompanist of rare accomplishments.

OCEANSIDE PLAYED A WINNING GAME

Struggle Yesterday on Southern Diamond Showed Gilt Edge Playing

Oceanside 3, Santa Ana 0. The above figures tell the story of one of the best games ever played on the Oceanside diamond, the Southerners saying that the Santa Ana boys gave them the best game played on the southern diamond this season.

"Rummy" Du Bois was in the points for the locals and pitched a great game of ball, allowing the home team but five hits and getting thirteen of them by the strikeout method. Coutts, an old St. Vincent's twirler, was on the mound for the Southerners, and pitched an equally good game, except in the strikeout column, he having eleven to his credit.

The feature of the game was the playing of "Pete" West and "Bandit" Robinson, the two "inside" baseball artists of the local nine; they simply ate up everything that came their way, letting nothing get by them. One-handed stabs were just like everyday occurrences with them.

As to the game, for the first eight innings no one ever saw a prettier struggle, both teams playing gilt-edge ball. Not an error was made until the eighth inning, when the Southerners bunched a couple of hits, and this, with the aid of one error, the only one in the game, gave them three runs, while the locals were unable to score one.

There was a crowd of about one hundred fans in attendance.

The score by innings:

Batteries—Du Bois and Stambaugh; Coutts and Watson. Umpire—Watson.

WILLIAM ALDEN SMITH WINS A CHAMPIONSHIP

Papers received here yesterday tell of a notable achievement by William Alden Smith, Jr., son of U. S. Senator Smith of Michigan and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. R. Smith of this city. Young Smith, who is now only seventeen years of age, won the championship tourney of the Kent county golf club, defeating some well known players from Chicago, Detroit and other points, and establishing a new record for the course. Experts who witnessed the young man's work branded him as a coming champion. Young Mr. Smith has visited in Santa Ana, and has many friends here who will learn of his achievement with pleasure.

Beans Were Burned

Bean harvesting, which is now well advanced, has developed the fact, according to a San Joaquin rancher, that in some cases severe damage was done to the crop by the hot weather earlier in the season. This severe heat came just at the time to burn the pods, and one rancher says his crop was damaged 25 per cent in that way. Many others, however, escaped with little loss.

BTATTLESHIP RUNS AMUCK

VALLEJO, Cal., Aug. 20.—The armored cruiser South Dakota ran amuck at Mare Island navy yard today, smashed the tug Unadilla, and grounded near the receiving ship Independence. The navy yard tugs tried unsuccessfully to refloat the warship.

Probably court martial proceedings will result from the accident.

The South Dakota broke from her moorings at 355 this morning, drifted in near a traveling crane and smashed the yard wall pilings. Then the helpless ship ran down the Unadilla, staving a three-foot hole in her side.

THE MAIN ISSUE NOW

The excitement of the direct primary being over with, comes again the vexed question as to the cost of living. There is no doubt but that it will cut a large figure in the campaign that is to follow, and of course we are anxious to make no mistake. Public attention is just now brought to it by the minority report of the senate committee that was appointed by the last congress. The majority report was made public long ago, and it assigned fifteen reasons for the advances in the price of living. The minority report attacks every one of them, assigning reasons that are supposed to place the entire blame of conditions on the party in power.

In other words, both reports are strictly partisan and are really political documents intended to sustain the principles and policies of the respective parties. For this reason they are both worthless, because tinged with partisan bias from beginning to end.

But each document will now be taken up by the Democrats and Republicans as the case may be, and a bewildering discussion will follow that will lead nowhere. The air will be full of oratorical dust that will be intended to obscure the true cause or causes by drawing public attention away from them.

Let us for the time throw away the multitude of specifications that have been presented by these reports and look at the question in its simplest form. Let us first ascertain the fundamental facts that govern prices. Common business sense admonishes us to begin at the beginning, and the beginning is to reason from the first principles of trade. What then makes prices? The answer is supply and demand. If one can supply an article that another demands there is a chance for a trade. If the supply is greater than the demand, the price is low. If it is less than the demand it is high. That is easy. This would suppose that all prices would be so regulated, and yet such is not the case.

Not to attempt making it a criterion to go by, let us take for illustration the price of bacon. You can buy it in Santa Ana for from thirty to forty cents per pound. Some places do not keep it at so low a price as thirty cents, and if you want to get a good article you must pay forty cents. Now can you reason out why it should sell for more than eighteen or twenty cents? The ruling prices are not set here, but are governed from the great packing emporiums. What is there that enters into the production of this common article of diet that makes of it a luxury scarcely to be indulged in by any but the well-to-do?

Recurring again to the law of supply and demand, we find by experience that another element is liable to enter into it as a factor in determining prices. A. B. and C. all have the same article to sell, and hence arises what we call COMPETITION. If there were but one in the business he could set the price to a point where it would be prohibitive and kill the business, but he would not do that. On the contrary he would put on all the price "the traffic would bear," which would yield him the highest possible profit. The same condition would result if the three should unite in fixing the price. In this case we would have what we call a MONOPOLY, which is a combination for the purpose of controlling prices.

Here we now have four things that enter into the price of living, to-wit: supply, demand, competition and monopoly. These all affect prices fundamentally, though there are collateral questions such as wages, strikes, lockouts and transportation that enter into them. Whatever has any bearing on supply, demand, competition or monopoly has an equal bearing on prices, and hence on the cost of living. In determining the causes of present prices, reference must be had to all of these. Under normal condition if either supply or demand are limited, the cost will go up or down according to which it is. This presupposes a healthful competition, but if competition is interfered with by some kind of an arrangement between producers, then supply and demand no longer govern, and prices go up to the highest point the traffic will bear.

This is about our condition today, and the next question that arises is as to what in any given case is the cause of the monopolies that thus limit supply and demand by controlling competition, or that, failing to limit supply and demand, still are able to control competition.

But this article is intended only to suggest the premises on which the argument should proceed, leaving the reader to follow it up for himself regardless of his preconceived notions as to politics.

TO SUPPRESS BURGLARY

A Chicago woman is said to have met a burglar at the door and having a nice little revolver in her hand, tore off a piece of her mind and handed it to him. At this he was prone to beat a hasty retreat, but she held him captive with her gun while she contributed to his store of information a whole lot of good advice, and when at last she told him to "go!" he, no doubt departed "a wiser if not a better man" than when he came. There is a vast deal of persuasive argument in a neat little shooting iron even when held by a woman. It would be a good idea to form a woman's target club with the purpose of instructing the ladies how to handle the things. The first lesson would, of course, be on how to handle them, and this would be the hardest one to learn. At first the greatest danger would be to the "innocent bystander," but it is firmly believed that by and by the average shootess would rise to the dignity of a marksman that can hit the atmosphere and finally a barn. It is safe to say that by this time the fame thereof would have spread far and near, gaining volume on the way until the average burglar would get nervous and abandon the field.

TAFT AND ROOSEVELT

Beats all what a furore is being made over the action of the "Old Guard" of New York in turning down Colonel Roosevelt. The eastern papers are making the most of it and the dispatches are overflowing with the things that Roosevelt did not say. The art and ingenuity of the professional news monger is taxed to the limit for the purpose of extracting something out of nothing. Not but that the incident of itself is full of significance, but that stories about it are being made "out of whole cloth."

"It is believed on high authority," "there is ground for thinking," and so on, but not a word from either Roosevelt or Taft. In fact the former distinctly says that he is not talking for publication, but he cannot prevent other people's ideas being imputed for him. This is an opportunity for the reactionaries to get in between the president and ex-president, and it goes without saying that it will be taken advantage of. It would be a great misfortune if the two greatest men of the nation should have a misunderstanding. It would weaken the forces of reform and set back the wheels of progress. The big interests would see in it a reaction against both, and with a united effort could undo much that these men have accomplished. But there is little danger of it. They are both big enough to lose sight of anything of a personal nature, if such a thing exists, and they will be found hand in hand when it comes to the serious work of politics and statecraft.

THWARTING THE PEOPLE

It will be remembered that in adopting the direct primary law, the machine prevailed on the legislature to reject the provision calling for a popular vote on United States Senator, and induced it to substitute in its place a vote by legislative districts. It might and probably will happen that the candidate who gets a majority of the legislative districts will receive a minority of the popular vote. Or to state it more exactly one may be accorded a plurality of the legislative districts and another a plurality of the popular vote. In such a case the one receiving the most votes would be defeated, and his opponent would go to the United States senate with the consciousness that another was the choice of his constituents. Of course a man who is strong on pride and self-respect would decline the honor. The fact that his friends had made a gallant fight for him and that they would feel disappointed in case he should refuse to accept even under such circumstances, would, it is true, appeal very strongly to him. It would place him where he could help them in return, and it would take a strong man to resist. Yes, an unusually strong man—a great man in fact, for "greater is he who refuses a crown than he who wears it." This quotation is from memory and perhaps a little out of joint, but the correct idea is there.

ONLY ONE CHICAGO

That's a great story that comes from Chicago—fake doctors, fake lawyers and fake school teachers turned out to order at so much per! But Chicago can no longer surprise us. Even though the situs of the above story were not given, the average reader would say "Chicago" without hesitation. The Windy City stands in a class by itself. There is but one Chicago on this planet and thank goodness for that! Still it probably has its place in the economy of things, and the time may come when—but let us not indulge in rash prophecies. Some one once wrote a book entitled, "If Christ Should Come to Chicago."

There are many points of view, but the two that are at this time the most interesting because of the broad expanse that lies between them, come to mind when Heney says to Johnson, "Shake!" and Otis says, "Huh!"

Our recent opponents assure us with much gusto that the "Regulars" will control the county convention. Sure! We're all regulars now.

Milk Rules

Tuberculosis kills 5,000,000 people annually. It may be carried through infected milk.

Select a milk man who has clean hands, clean clothes, clean wagon, clean cans, clean bottles.

Do not select a milk man because he sells cheap milk.

Refuse milk that shows a deposit of dirt in the bottom of the bottle. Do not forget that dirt in milk is a menace to health.

Do not forget that dirty milk may kill the baby.

Always keep pasteurized milk cool. Use at once. Do not forget that germs multiply more rapidly in pasteurized milk than in any other.

Do not leave milk uncovered anywhere.

Do not leave milk in a warm room, or unchilled ice box. Protect it from flies. Do not leave it out of doors in the sun or exposed to cats or dogs.

Do not use the milk bottles for anything but milk.

Wash and scald milk bottles as soon as emptied. Return clean bottles to the milk man. Buy only bottled milk, if possible.—Union Signal.

Roosevelt and Taft Probably Get Together

Sherman Won't Give Up Chairmanship in Favor of Roosevelt

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Vice President Sherman declines to be drawn into any discussion of the assertion made yesterday by former Assemblyman Merwin K. Hart during the course of a speech to the effect that the vice-president had suppressed a telegram he received from President Taft, in which the president expressed the wish that no move toward selecting a new temporary chairman of the Republican State convention be made without the fullest consultation with Colonel Roosevelt.

It may be stated that up to the present time he has not given serious consideration to the suggestion that in the interest of party harmony he retire from the temporary chairmanship in favor of Colonel Roosevelt. However, on this subject, as on all others pertaining to the mixup in state politics, Mr. Sherman is not flying into print, proceeding on the theory that discussion of any of the various phases of the controversy at this time will not heal any breaches or promote harmony.

RUBBER TRUST MAN IS TO SUCCEED ALDRICH

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 22.—Colonel O. P. Colt, the head of the rubber trust, despite his recent denials, is to be the next United States senator of Rhode Island, to fill the vacancy that the retirement of Senator Nelson W. Aldrich will cause next March.

The state is now thoroughly Republican and has every earmark of continuing so. The state committee will have no trouble in proclaiming Colt elected next January. There is no other man in the party except Colonel Colt with the money to expend for a job in Rhode Island.

FIND BIG DEPOSIT OF FULLER'S EARTH

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 22.—John T. Reed, well known local assayer and mining man has found an immense deposit of Fuller's earth near Barstow. The discovery is considered very important, and a number of Barstow people have inspected the deposit and plan the organization of a corporation to handle the product. It is said that the earth is of a high quality, and its discovery means much for the commercial interests of the desert town. The earth sells in the east at from $12 to $15 per ton.

Etrohm was walking through a patch of sage brush when the snake struck. He killed the reptile. A handkerchief was bound tightly around the wound before the dash to the hospital started.

The Conservatory Corner

—Do you know we are going to make it possible for every child or student who must, to make his own way in getting a thorough, up-to-date musical training in the Orange County Conservatory of Music?

Well, we are! And because we have several plans for this thing which we have not the room to explain to you fully in this short space, we invite you to call as soon as possible at our office, Room 10, over Reinhaus's.

We want to help you and we know you'll be interested.

Many requests are coming in for tuition in the various departments, piano, vocal, violin, etc., and we feel confident of the success of our plans.

Come to see us. Learn all about our plans, our aims, our different departments, our faculty, our very reasonable rates, etc., and then tell your friends.

Lessons begin Sept. 1. Pupils may enroll any day of the year, however. But we prefer that as many as possible begin Sept. 1.

Society

Brown-Garrison

Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, a wedding took place at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Stevenson in which there will be much interest felt, the bride being widely known here. The service was pronounced by Rev. Stevenson, and united Mrs. Myrtle L. Garrison in marriage to William J. Brown.

As Mrs. Garrison, the bride, has been connected with the well known dry good establishment of J. H. Rankin, where she has presided over the suit department for years, winning friends by her pleasant and obliging manner and attractive personality.

Mr. Brown is comparatively a newcomer here and is now with the A. N. Zerman Commission House. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will reside on East Fourth street, where their home was already prepared. Many good wishes will be extended to the newly married couple.

Home From Manila

Mrs. Effie Paxton Hewitt and baby, William Paxton, are at the home of Mrs. Hewitt's parents in Orange. Mr. Hewitt will probably not leave Manila until spring, when he will come to the states to locate permanently.

Past Matrons to Meet

That organization of congenial spirits, the Past Matrons' Association, O.E.S., will meet tomorrow afternoon at the Ninth street home of Mrs. Theo. Winbiger to have one of its delightful social afternoons.

Travelers in America

The French-Medlock-Dawes-Cole party that has been touring Europe, is now in America, and some of the travelers are on their homeward way to Santa Ana. The Medlocks are expected here on Thursday next and Mrs. Cole is visiting along the way. The Frenches are in Boston and will not be at home for a fortnight. The Dawes family is visiting friends and relatives in Canada.

Talbert Social Function

The ladies of the Home Mission Society of the M. E. Church South of Talbert gave a bazaar on the 19th of August, in the School House, closing with a literary program in the evening consisting of music, recitations, reading, etc., closing with an auction sale of quilts, rugs, fancy needle work of all kinds, which was eminently successful from a financial standpoint, yielding a net profit of over $100.

The success of this enterprise is due largely to the untiring labors and wise management of the president, Mrs. Clark, wife of Rev. Wayne C. Clark of Bolso as well as the hearty co-operation of all the ladies of the society and friends in the community. The ladies desire to express their thanks to all those that contributed in any and every way to the bazaar.

To Repair Bridge

Specifications were filed in the County Clerk's office this morning for the improvement of the Chapman avenue bridge, on the Orange-Anaheim road. The bridge is to be rebuilt on the same general lines as at present, but is to be four feet wider, to have additional piers and to be made stronger throughout its entire construction.

Gonzales Gets a Floater

Romola Gonzales, charged with conducting a blind pig at Talbert, was arraigned for trial in Justice Smithwick's court this morning. After the jury had been partially secured Gonzales held a consultation with his lawyer and decided to change his plea from not guilty to guilty. Justice Smithwick imposed a sentence of $100 or 100 days in jail, suspending it on condition that Gonzales would get out of the county and out of the state and stay out. Gonzales got.

The funeral of H. W. J. Millings, whose financial misfortunes recently culminated in his death, inflicted by his own hand, was held Saturday afternoon from Smith & Son's chapel, and is said to have been one of the most largely attended of any ever taking place here. Rev. J. A. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, conducted the services in a touching way. Miss Fredda Moesser sang "The Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and a duet, "The Rock of Ages," was sung by Misses Moesser and Hazel Rowley. Many beautiful flowers from the fraternal orders to which Mr. Millings had belonged, and from dozens of sympathizing friends of the deceased and his desolate widow and children were clustered about the casket, testifying to the esteem of those who had known Mr. Millings long and favorably.

The pall bearers were chosen from the fraternal orders of which the deceased man had been a member: The Ancient Order of Foresters, Santa Ana Court No. 9004, and Mayflower Lodge No. 365, Fraternal Union of America. They were as follows: Messrs H. H. Ellis, A. C. Williams, Theo. Lacy, Wm. Smalley, John Hoxie, J. A. Brown of Escondido.

FRIENDS DESERT SPEAKER CANNON

SEATTLE, Aug. 22.—Representative William Humphrey, one of the closest friends of Speaker Cannon, today said he would not support Cannon for re-election as speaker. Humphrey was opposed for renomination for the insurgents in his district because of his relations with Cannon. "There is strong Republican sentiment, just or unjust, against the re-election of the speaker, and I cannot believe it would be to the best interest of the party to re-elect Cannon to the speakership."

DROWNING WOMEN SAVED

Two Boys Heroically Rescue Bathers on Verge of Collapse

REDONDO BEACH, Aug. 22.—Two women, who refused to give their names or residences, were saved from drowning yesterday morning by the timely assistance of two Redondo Beach boys. They were bathing in the surf just south of the bathhouse and had moved out beyond the breakers, where they apparently lost their nerve, and in trying to work their way in were knocked down by the waves and were unable to help themselves.

Frederick Stock and Frederick Kussmaul noticed their helplessness and went to their assistance, finding them on the verge of collapse. Both women had to be carried ashore, where, after a short interval they revived.

GRACE BEFORE MEALS.

A Prayer That Was Retrospective as Well as Prospective.

Most small boys—and many other people, too—have experienced the mortification that comes from beginning a meal before the blessing is said. The usual reason for such a breach of etiquette is that the small boy—or the other person—did not know that the blessing was going to be said. The awkward feeling that is sure to follow such a blunder cannot be helped, but it may be mitigated. On one occasion, says Mr. Adlai E. Stevenson in "Something of Men I Have Known," a gentleman at a formal dinner, being very hungry and exhausted, made this mistake of starting in before grace.

After the blessing was asked, he turned to Mr. Knott and said: "I am humiliated at my conduct. I should have remembered that Presbyterians always say grace before meals."

To this Knott replied: "You ought not to feel so. That blessing of Dr. Bullock's was broad and general, in large measure retrospective as well as prospective. It reminds me of a little incident that occurred on the Rolling Fork."

"An old time deacon down there was noted for the lengthy blessing which at his table was the unending prelude to every meal. His hired man, Bill Taylor, an unconverted and impatient youth, had fallen into the habit of commencing his meal before the blessing had been fully invoked.

"The frown and the rebuke of the good deacon were of no avail in effecting the desired reform. Righteously indignant, the deacon, in a spirit possibly not the most devout, at length gave utterance to this petition:

"For what we are about to receive and for what William Taylor has already received accept our thanks, O Lord!"

"Knott," said one of the guests, "you are the only man on earth who could have thought of such a story at just the opportune moment."

The temporary depression vanished, and the premature guest was himself again and was soon the life of the assemblage.

A Tale of a Hated Dish.

There is a charming story told of the great French painter Corot. Being hospitable, he frequently assembled his friends to dinner, and a dish of haddock and potatoes, which everybody hated, invariably followed the soup. The friends, who thought Corot partial to the dish, always gave it when he dined with them. At last, in reply to the painter's query, they admitted that they detested the dish, but supposed he liked it.

Corot was grinning broadly. "My dear fellow, if you only knew how I hate the sight of it even. But Adele, my cook, simply adores haddock and potatoes. And it is no good—I dare not go against her wishes. It is as much as my place is worth. Not for worlds would my awe of Adele induce me to undecieve her as regards the value I attach to this one particular article of diet."

And for the sake of Adele this little group of great painters had for thirty years been eating a dish they could none of them bear.

The Shillalah.

The shillalah is not a mere stick picked up for a few pence or cut casually out of the common hedge. Like the Arab mare, it grows to maturity under the fostering care of its owner.

The shillalah, like the poet, is born, not made. Like the poet, too, it is a choice plant, and its growth is slow. Among 10,000 blackthorn shoots perhaps not more than one is destined to become famous, but one of the 10,000 appears of singular fitness. As soon as discovered it is marked and dedicated for future service. Everything that might hinder its development is removed, and any offshoot of the main stem is skillfully cut off. With constant care it grows thick and strong upon a bulbous root that can be shaped into a handle.

Asking Too Much.

The country doctor had come to prescribe for Lucy, the colored cook's little daughter, who was suffering from the unfashionable ailment known as "chills."

The doctor opened his saddlebags and prepared several doses of the time honored remedy quinine in capsules.

Lucy sat up in bed, watching the proceedings with great interest, as the doctor filled each tiny capsule and capped it. But when she heard the instructions, "Give her one of these every two hours," she wailed in terror:

"Is you gwine to mek me swaller dem little glass bottles, stoppers an' all?"—Youth's Companion.

COURSE IN AGRICULTURE IN OUR COUNTY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Large List of Teachers Certificates Grant- ed—Course of Study and Methods of Examination Under Consideration

If the plans of the County Board of Education go through, a course in agriculture will be included in the curriculum of the county schools, beginning with the next term. The board met Saturday and devoted most of the afternoon session to the consideration of this feature. It was the sentiment of the board that such an addition to the course should be made, and today the board is meeting to work out the details.

It is the intention of the board to make the course a practical one, including laboratory work, analysis of soils, study of plant propagation and pathology, and study of local agricultural conditions. It is probable that the board will have the course of study prepared in time for the coming session of school.

The morning session of the board Saturday was devoted to the granting of certificates to teachers. Special certificates were granted to Grace E. Leusler, Bessie M. Edwards, Emma Josephine Davis, L. O. Culp and W. L. Hughes.

High school certificates were granted Edna Earle, William M. Fishback and F. L. Schneider.

Grammar school certificates were given to Sallie Catland, Pearl G. Crutchfield, Bertha A. Barclay, B. B. Foster, Mary E. Cox, Lena F. Middleton, Mary Alice Grimshaw, Pearl Jewell Grant, Ethel Wright, Ethel Margaret Archer, Margaret M. Seymour, Cora L. Talbert, Margaret H. Allen, Bertha P. Kimball, Anna W. Walden and Elva L. Uttley.

At the Saturday afternoon session the board discussed the course of study and the method of examinations, but decided on no material changes.

Dairy Products as Food

The products of the dairy are perhaps the most useful articles included in the human diet. A meal made of dishes into which no product of the dairy cow enters would not be such as to inspire "the turnpike road to people's hearts" I find lies through mouths, or I mistake mankind." Take away the butter for the bread, the cream for the coffee and the porridge, the shortening in the crust and the biscuits, the milk in the gravy and in the puddings, the cream for the dessert and the various kinds of cheese which please and satisfy, then take away the cup of milk for the little one and the meal that would be left would be neither tempting nor nutritious.

The health of our people depends so much upon an adequate supply of pure dairy products that even a scarcity is always attended by suffering and death.

Butter is sometimes referred to as a luxury but one of the necessities of life, and its composition is such that nothing can take its place and perform the same functions. It is nature's product compounded in the maternal organism and the process is in accordance with nature's law, a law which man can imitate but cannot understand. Man can manufacture from various fats and oils a substitute for butter but it cannot take the place of nature's product because man cannot understand the needs of the human body as nature understands them.

The animal body is developed best when nourished by foods which have been little manipulated by man and machinery. Dairy products are, as a rule, consumed nearly as nature produced them. This is particularly true with milk upon which the growing baby must depend. In the case of butter only a small percentage of other products are added to the fat extracted from the milk. Man only manipulates it in order to put it in convenient shape for use. It can still be termed a product of nature designed as only nature can design for use as food by the human body.—The National Dairy Union, E. K. Slater, Secretary, St. Paul, Minn.

GOOD NEWS

Many Santa Ana Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby

"Good news travels fast," and the thousands of bad back sufferers in Santa Ana are glad to learn that prompt relief is within their reach. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are telling the good news of their experience with the Old Quaker Remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

S. H. Whithead, 607 W. First street, Santa Ana, Cal., says: "A great many people have called upon me to learn about my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills and at such times I have always recommended this remedy in the highest terms. For several years I was troubled by a weak and painful back. If I did any lifting or over-exerted myself in any way, I suffered from sharp twinges through my loins. I also had much trouble from the kidney secretions. At one time the passages were too frequent, then again just the reverse and the flow was scanty and painful. Doan's Kidney Pills took prompt effect upon my trouble and it was not long after beginning their use that I was entirely relieved. During the past two and a half years, I have had but little trouble from my back or kidneys and I have not felt in need of a kidney medicine."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

COAL MINING COMPANY MAKES FINE EXHIBIT

The Orange County Coal Mining Co., which has a very valuable property in Santiago canyon, gave an exhibition of its resources to the people of Santa Ana Saturday. A procession of wagons, laden with the output of the mines, paraded the streets and forcibly impressed on observers the fact that Orange county has a real, practicable coal mine.

THE KELEK.

A Peculiar Raft Boat Sacred to the River Tigris.

From Diarbekr to Bagdad, as a crow might do it, the distance is about 400 miles. As the kelek goes—a contrivance sacred to the river Tigris since the days of Adam and Eve—the distance is high upon a thousand miles and the time occupied anywhere between eight and twenty days. In "The Short Cut to India" David Fraser tells of the kelek and of his journey.

The kelek is easily constructed. Take any number of inflated goat-skins, from 100 up to 800, and tie them in rows underneath a framework of poplar poles. One or two pairs of great oars complete the ship, and it is ready for crew, cargo and passengers.

When a "globe trotter" ships aboard a kelek some of the cargo is left behind, and upon the space thus left vacant a hut is erected. A light wooden framework is hung round with cotton walls that roll up or let down, according to the desire of the occupant. In addition, the roof has a thick grass mat to keep out the sun.

The traveler enjoys entire privacy as regards the people on his own kelek, for he gives orders that nobody is to come aboard his gable. At the end of his little house and projecting astern of the raft is a tiny bathroom protected from public gaze by cloth walls.

Thus the kelek combines all the advantages of a modern mansion, living room, kitchen, sanitary arrangements, abundant light and air and panoramic scenery that is an eternal feast for the eye.

We sailed one morning at 10 o'clock, with the temperature over a hundred in the shade. But heat may be corrected by a minimum of clothes and a maximum of cold water. The Tigris comes straight from the mountain snows of Kurdistan, and its flood was like ice compared with the fire of the air.

For a man who could not put on his own socks or tie the buttons of his waistcoat and doubled up, moreover, with a chronic lumbago that first plunged overboard was rather a venture. I looked for a long time before I leaped, thinking the while that, although a man may never forget how to sing or dance or pray, he can never forget how to swim, and then I shut my eyes and jumped. For my faith I was magnificently rewarded, and that first swim in the brimming Tigris was absolutely and completely glorious.

There was mild adventure too. Suddenly the water deepened, and I swam frantically after the kelek. Just as I caught up with it the river shallowed again. I tried to jump aboard, but the jagged protecting poles of the framework made throwing oneself forward most difficult. The pace was so great that no sooner had I lifted a foot than the kelek slipped away from it, and with my weak hands I could not help the situation. A deepening of the water resulted in rescue from a ridiculous and uncomfortable position.

A Poisoned Shaft.

Things hadn't turned out too well with their love affair. The fatal word had just been spoken, and he was rejected. The rejected suitor stood respectfully before her, listening to her elaborate explanations of her decision. Below, the smooth waters rested in awesome wonder.

"I trust I have made myself sufficiently plain," she said.

"Well, I would scarcely go so far," he answered as his courage gradually returned. "It's but fair to give nature the credit for that," he added, as he retired in good order.

The Rare Gift of Courtesy.

Courtesy includes not merely social kindness, graces of speech, absence of rudeness, but honorable treatment of all business associates and of all the fellow citizens with whom a man of affairs may have business to transact. It is not American to keep one citizen waiting all day at the door because he is poor and to grant another citizen an interview because it is believed he is rich. Wisdom is not confined in a purse, and frequently much wisdom may be learned from a poor man.—Los Angeles Herald.

A Musical Beat.

A Paris journal relates that a party of men sitting in front of a boulevard cafe were recently approached by a man who had a clarinet in his hand and who said: "Gentlemen, excuse me. I have to make my living, but I suppose you would rather give me a sou not to hear me." They took the hint. He repeated this performance several times till one day one of the men said he felt like hearing a tune and asked him to play. "I am sorry," said the man with the clarinet, "but I cannot play a note."

A FAMOUS HIGHWAY.

The "Old Turtle Trace" That Led From the Colonies to the West.

One of the most famous highways in America is the "Old Turtle Trace" through the valleys and the hills of the lower Appalachians, over which the early pioneers made their way from the colonies to the wilds of Tennessee, Kentucky and the great west. Its usefulness long since having ceased, it has been abandoned with a ruthlessness that causes something akin to pain in the hearts of people who love old things of a historical nature. It is doubtful if at this late date the course of the "Old Turtle Trace" can be accurately defined. I have frequently heard it remarked in east Tennessee, and twice in north-east Alabama has an old roadbed been pointed out to me as the course of that historic highway. Presumably it passed over the Cumberland plateau, and a few miles from Tracy City, Tenn., it is most plainly marked. Its course can be followed easily, though the roadbed is now filled with the accumulation of years and the way barred by giant trees that have fallen crosswise or young trees that have taken root and flourished in the path of the rocking chaise of a century ago.

Obviously the name "Turtle Trace" was bestowed by the Indians. Local tradition says that the predecessors of the stage were the Indians of the Turtle clan, who led their war parties to the westward over this trail. Another and quite as well founded tradition is that a turtle's shell was the symbol of the stage line that traversed the route in the early days, a rather humorous play on the speed with which the line used to deliver its fares to the western terminal. At any rate, the "Old Turtle Trace" played no small part in the early development of our west and is to be considered one of the really historic roads of America. It is a very slight test of the imagination to stand by the side of the deep scar in the beautiful face of the Cumberland plateau and see the old chaise rocking along through the afternoon shadows. One can almost see Jefferson, Johnson, Webster and other notables of their time step therefrom, stretch their legs, cramped from travel, and take a refreshing pinch from their gold snuff-boxes. Not a man is now alive who remembers the old days of travel on the Turtle Trace, but doubtless most of the men of the early part of the last century who figured in our country's formative period bowed back and forth over this road on their mission of history making.—National Monthly.

Long Distance Horseback Riding.

One of the most remarkable accomplishments in long distance horseback riding was in the early part of the last century when Squire Obaldistone, at Newmarket, England, on a wager of $5,000, was to ride 200 miles within ten hours. The horses were changed at the end of the four mile circuit, some of them being ridden two or three times, and one, Franby, was brought out for a fourth mount. The squire had to mount and remount each horse from the ground, not using a mounting block, so losing time and taking more strain. In spite of this and the ground not being in good condition, the 200 miles were covered in eight hours and thirty-nine minutes. About thirty horses were ridden.

Cat's Sense of Locality.

A kitten about six months old was taken to a house a few miles distant from its birthplace, confined in a room and tenderly cared for during a week and then set at liberty. It was supposed to have become habituated to its new surroundings, but it returned to its old home on the day of its release.

The sense of locality and direction was exhibited still more strikingly by an old tomcat which was stolen and carried a distance of twenty miles, confined in a bag. The cat was imprisoned, but made its escape and in a few days reappeared in a pitiable state at the home of its former master, which was separated from that of the thief by a high wooded cliff.—Scientific American.

Charles Reade's Method of Work.

Reade's literary work was, Sir Robert Anderson remarks, a rare combination of genius and plodding. A brass scuttle which stood by the fireplace held the illustrated and other papers which reached him week by week. From these he culled anything that took his fancy, and the cuttings were thrown into a companion scuttle, to be afterward inserted in scrap books and daily indexed. Materials for his novels and plays were thus supplied or suggested. The accuracy of his descriptions of events and places was phenomenal.—Westminster Gazette.

HIS NAME.

The Answer Was Clear, but It Took Some Time to Understand.

"I wonder," mused the man who was smoking a cigar—"I wonder how there happen to be so many Smiths, Joneses and Browns in the world."

The man with the pipe replied: "I saw in the paper this morning that Aaracho Mechnowitski, a Russian Pole, has applied for permission to have his name changed to the more Englished Aaron Smith. That is one reason for the vast number of Smiths and might also account for the Joneses and Browns. Men with unpronounceable names have them changed for business as well as sensible reasons."

"Well," said the man with the cigar, "my name is not unpronounceable—it is as easy to say as mud or slush or anything—but it gives me a great deal of trouble. It's a monosyllable too."

"That's queer," was the natural remark. "What is it?"

"Guess."

"Oh, I couldn't. Of the eighty odd millions of people in the United States there are undoubtedly no more than an average of eighty to a name, or, to reverse the phrase, no fewer than a million surnames. No; you'll have to tell me. I won't venture it."

"Guess," suggested the other again.

But the man with the pipe shook his head. "I couldn't find a man's name haphazard, especially when, as you say in your case, the name is simple, easy to pronounce and yet causes trouble for you."

"So much trouble that I might think seriously of doing what Aaracho. What's-his-name is doing and get it changed."

"It must be rotten. What is it?"

And then for the third time he was told "Guess."

"Not in a million years."

"Every day of my life," said the objectioner.

"What is it?"

"My name."

"But what is it?"

"Guess."

And it was.—New York Times.

One of Rhodes' Ideas.

A well known peer once asked Cecil Rhodes to stand godfather to his son, and he replied that he would on one condition, which was that he might invest at once £100 in the boy's name and give £100 on each succeeding birthday, provided that it should all go on at compound interest until the boy was old enough to begin to spend the interest, and that then he might yearly decide on what to spend it, so long as it was not on himself. "This," said Mr. Rhodes, "will do two things—first, it will teach your boy how to spend money, and, secondly, it will make him unselfish and kind to those in need."

How Ney Faced Death.

Marshal Ney was the son of a hardworking cooper and had risen from the ranks of the army. He was a child of the people, and whatever may have been his vanities he threw them all aside in his last days. When he was led out to death an officer ordered a bandage tied over his eyes.

"Why should you do that?" said Ney. "Haven't I been accustomed for twenty-five years to look bullets and cannon balls in the face?"

He himself ordered the soldiers to fire, standing and facing them. His career summed up in one life the spectacular heroism of the past.

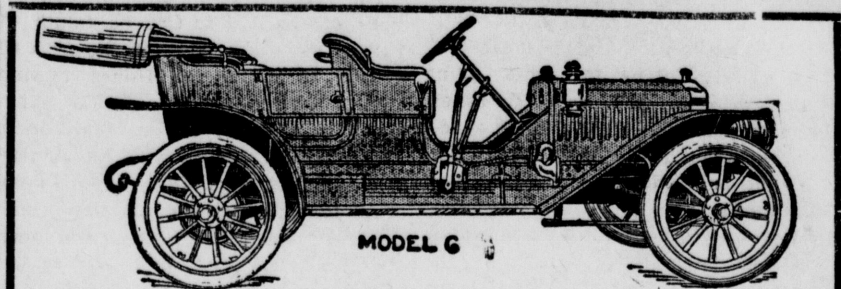

Stone Plants.

In South Africa there is found a plant of the genus mesembryanthemum, growing on stony ground, which so closely resembles a pebble that it is invariably taken by a stranger to be a stone. Another species of the same plant growing on the hills near the Karoo produces two leaves about as large as ducks' eggs, having a surface resembling weathered stone of brownish gray color, tinged with green. These plants look like stones, but for a short time they bear bright yellow flowers. Still another species of the same plant resembles the quartz pebbles among which it grows.

Chinamen's Bones.

All Chinamen who die in America are buried in American cemeteries, but it is the understanding that, some years later, the bones of the dead will be gathered up and sent back home for burial. This understanding with the dead is never betrayed, and there are a score of Chinamen who make a good living as bone collectors and bone shippers. The men travel all over America. Few cemeteries are unknown to them. There is no freight line that has not carried Frisco-ward on their behalf many parcels of Chinese bones for shipment home.—Exchange.

Fame's Pathway

Charles Stramland Wake, connected with the Field Museum of Natural History, died in Chicago recently. Mr. Wake, who was a member of many scientific societies, was known as an authority on anthropology. He was the author of numerous works on the subject. Mr. Wake was born in England in 1835.

Stowe Phelps, the New York cotton leader, has been airing his views on the high cost of living, and declares that the high price of labor is the cause, dwelling upon the fact that bricklayers now get $10 a day. Dharmananda Kosambi, one of the most learned men in all India, has arrived in this country to become an instructor of professors at Harvard and incidentally show them how much they don't know about things they think they know.

An Oversight

An old German maker of violoncellos had just finished one which he considered to be a particularly fine piece of work, and he proudly lifted it up for a friendly musician who was standing near him to admire. He had just called attention to the beautiful lines when all of a sudden something rattled.

"Ach," he exclaimed, "I have left der glue pot inside!"

The Register. Biggest, brightest, best. Take it, it's pleasant.

OFFICIAL COUNT IN PROGRESS

Trickey Says Will Not Contest
on Technicality—Lester Confident He is Winner

At 1 o'clock this afternoon the Board of Supervisors began canvassing the returns of the primary election of last Tuesday. The work will hardly be completed before tomorrow evening.

Greatest interest centers in the race between Cal D. Lester and Frank S. Trickey for county auditor, the former having a majority of only sixteen on the unofficial returns. However, it does not seem probable that a contest will result in this race, unless the official canvass should develop some unexpected irregularities.

Mr. Trickey said this morning to a Register reporter:

"I have no intention of making a contest in this race. I shall abide by the official count, and if it shall show me to be the loser I will cheerfully support the winner. I am reliably informed that in the city of Santa Ana about fifty ballots were thrown out on account of improper marking, and it is reasonable to suppose that I should have had a majority of those. But I have no desire to make a contest on a technicality. I want to keep my political record clean, and there will be other opportunities in future when I may present my claims to the people. I feel that, all things considered, my friends made a splendid fight for me in this race, and I have nothing to express but gratitude for those who did so well by me. Now I'm for the winner."

Auditor Lester, winner in the race, said this morning: "I am feeling entirely confident of the result, so hardly see that there is much for me to say. I am satisfied that the official count will show me the winner, and from what my late opponent has said to me I anticipate no contest."

The count progressed this afternoon without any changes from the returns heretofore published. None of the unsuccessful candidates has an attorney to look after his interests, and there seems to be no probability of a contest in any race. The count is progressing very slowly, owing to the length of the ticket.

GAYNOR NOW GOES ON NORMAL FOOD

Physicians Declare That He Is Surely Past the Danger Line

HOBOKEN, Aug. 22.—Mayor Gaynor today was allowed to return to ordinary food, his condition being highly satisfactory.

PHYSICIANS SAY DANGER
MARK IS NOW PASSED
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Mayor Gay-

nor ate a healthy man's meal Saturday and was declared out of danger. Next month when the Aldermen meet it is expected that bonds will be authorized to cover extraordinary expense entailed by the attack. When President McKinley was shot the medical bills were paid by the Federal government. They came to $45,000. Medical attendance for Mayor Gaynor so far has been about $1000 a day.

ST. LOUIS HAS BIG CENSUS INCREASE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Thirteenth census reports the population of the city of St. Louis, Mo., is 687,029, as compared with 575,238 in 1900 and 451,770 in 1890. The increase from 1900 to 1910, therefore is 111,791, or 19.4 per cent, as compared with an increase for the preceding decade of 123,468, or 27.4 per cent.

HALF-DAY FIRE MENACED ARROYA SECO YESTERDAY

PASADENA, Aug. 22.—Fire starting from an unknown cause at 11 o'clock yesterday morning threatened to invade the Arroyo Seco territory and do untold damage to the watershed timber reserve.

The blaze originated low in the foothills and spread rapidly at first. Its location was between the La Canada fire of three years ago and the Arroyo Seco.

Hurry orders for assistance were sent into Pasadena and Linda Vista. With shovels and other fire-fighting weapons the men under Forester Graham were enabled to gradually diminish the circle of flames and shortly before 5 o'clock the blaze was extinguished.

ENNIS ECLIPSES HIKE OF THE FAMOUS WESTON

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 22.—John Ennis, a hale and hearty pedestrian, 69 years of age, arrived in this city yesterday morning on his long hike from New York to San Francisco. He completed the journey this far in seventy-eight walking days. He has been on the road eighty-nine days, but does not travel on Sunday.

Ennis, who is three years younger than Edward Payson Weston, the famous pedestrian, expects to deliver a letter from Mayor Gaynor of New York to Mayor McCarthy of San Francisco tomorrow evening, which will be twenty-five days faster than the record transcontinental trip of Weston.

ICELAND VOLCANO IS THREATENING ERUPTION

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 22.—After a period of quiescence lasting 32 years, Mount Hecla, the famous volcano of Iceland, is threatening eruption. Smoke is pouring from the crater.

The snow has vanished from the mountain, presumably from the effect of internal heat. Earthquakes have been frequent recently.

The inhabitants are anxious, the neighborhood of the mountain being the most fertile and most cultivated part of the island.

PROF. GARNER IS BACK FROM AFRICA WITH CHIMPANZEE

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—After living for seven years in a bamboo hut in the heart of African jungle with only two negro servants and wild chimpanzees and gorillas for companions, Professor Richard L. Garner, the anthropologist, reached New York yesterday aboard the French line steamship La Touraine with "Susie," the seven-months-old ape who can talk and understand the English language.

HALESWORTH IS THE GARDENER

Supervisors Settle Long Fight
In Regard to Job at the Court House

At their meeting this morning the supervisors appointed E. R. Halesworth to the position of gardener at the courthouse, succeeding M. B. Patton, deceased. There were seven applicants for the position. On the ballot Halesworth secured four votes and W. B. Mason one.

County Superintendent Mitchell was granted permission to purchase an adding machine.

Auditor Lester was authorized to draw a warrant for $2750 in favor of the City Board of Education for the purchase of the Grand avenue school building, which is to be used as a detention home.

Erwin Bayha of Yorba was appointed county statistician, the compensation not being stated.

A. B. Tiffany, custodian of the county park, was granted a two weeks' leave of absence.

FOREST FIRES ENCIRCLE THE GREAT NORTHWEST

troops from Fort Wright, Spokane, are exhausted, having been on duty continuously since last Saturday.

DOES NOT CREDIT BURN- ING OF HOSPITAL TRAIN

SPOKANE, Aug. 22.—"No word of any such catastrophe has come to us, and we would surely have known about it if such a thing happened," is the statement issued by the office of the superintendent of the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company, regarding the truth of the report that nine nurses and forty-two patients had burned to death on a train near Wallace.

HUNDREDS FIGHT FIRE IN FOREST RESERVE

LEWISTON, Idaho, Aug. 22.—The Clearwater National Forest Reserve is again at the mercy of the flames, according to reports received by Supervisor Fenn. High wind renders the efforts to extinguish the fire unavailing. More than eight hundred are fighting the flames.

COLORADO TROOPS MAY BE LOST IN FIRE ZONE

MISSOULA, Mont., Aug. 22.—A relief train left here this afternoon for Borax, Idaho, and East Wallace, to locate a company of colored troops from Camp Sparta, Wyoming, who reached Borax Saturday, and who have not been heard from since. Borax is within the fire zone and much anxiety for the safety of the troops is felt.

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 22.—One hundred fire-fighters are reported dead in the flooded canyon near Wallace, Idaho, and five citizens were burned in their homes, as a result of forest fires which for sixty days have terrified the Coeur d'Alene country and which spread to the town of Wallace, the metropolis of the mining district, Saturday. More than a third of Wallace is burned.

Montana Fires Rage

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 22.—The forest fire situation in Montana tonight is the worst in the history of the state. The last reports from the Flathead country before communication was cut off were to the effect that the situation was well-nigh hopeless; that new fires had broken out and that the fighters were absolutely unable to cope with the situation.

The Bitter Root Valley fires have also secured renewed vigor.

Libby and Eureka are said to be surrounded by flames and Avon is menaced. Taft, St. Regis, Haugan are wiped out by the flames, other towns are in danger and railroad bridges are being destroyed. Lives of fire fighters and others are in danger.

FIRST THROUGH PASSENGER TRAIN ON NEW OVERLAND

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22.—Welcomed by thousands, the first through passenger train on the Western Pacific arrived here today.

Welcomed at Stockton
STOCKTON, Aug. 22.—The Western Pacific's first overland train reached Stockton at 12:20 and left at 1 o'clock for Oakland. Every steam whistle and bell in the town sounded a welcome. The Chamber of Commerce loaded the train with San Joaquin valley fruit and took the railroad officials and their guests on an auto trip about the city.

TAFT MAKES VICTIM OF SON'S AUTO VERY HAPPY

BEVERLY, Mass., Aug. 22.—When Michael Angelo de Gregario, Italian laborer on the road near Beverly, stepped in front of Robert Taft's motor car last June he stepped into a fortune.

Michael Angelo was knocked down and run over and was taken to the hospital. There he was attended by Dr. William J. Mixler, of Boston, who responded to the appeal of President Taft. After careful and skillful attention and a luxurious convalescence, Gregario expected to return to the pick and shovel on the roadway. But he has been able to realize his dear dream of going back to beloved Italy.

President Taft having paid his passage home and presented him with $500.

When Michael Angelo was told that the $500 was all velvet—that is, that all his expenses home would be paid in addition—Michael Angelo promptly sent the $500 home in advance of his sailing. That means 2500 lire in Italy, and Gregario's fellow countrymen here say he, with his frugal habits, is fixed for life.
